

Jewish Studies Internship Application

Spring 2012

The Jewish Studies Internship Program is a new initiative sponsored by the Jewish Studies Program at Penn to enable students to get involved in the intellectual dimensions of Jewish Studies outside the classroom. Interns will meet informally as a group once or twice a semester with Penn Jewish Studies faculty and visiting scholars, and each intern will be expected to work in a group to organize one event which involves other Penn students—e.g., a discussion or informal meal with a scholar, a program at a movie or theater performance that raises questions and issues relevant to Jewish Studies, etc. In return for participation and service, and each intern will receive a $100 research stipend.

1) Name: _____

2) Address: _____

3) E-mail: _____

4) Class: _____

5) Major/Minor: _____

6) Past or Current courses in Jewish Studies:

7) In a brief paragraph (to be attached to this form), explain your interest in becoming a JS Intern, and/or the type of programs in which you would be interested in participating.

8) Jewish Studies interns typically work with a partner or in small groups; if you are hoping to work with another applicant, please indicate that here: _____

Submit this application to Christine Walsh at chwalsh@sas.upenn.edu by 1:00 pm on Wednesday January 25th.

If you have questions about the Jewish Studies Internship program, please contact Program Coordinator Tammie Wanta at twanta@sas.upenn.edu.