

Figure 1: Map of the Baures Prehispanic Hydraulic Complex located between the San Joaquín River to the west and the San Martín River to the east and between 13o30' and 14o20' latitude South. The fish weirs (zig-zag structures and ponds) are concentrated in the North Block (447km² of savanna excluding forest islands) and the South Block (77km²).